

Halo Horizon

A piece of atmosphere

Halo Horizon is the first model of a long series to come from the Landscape collection. It takes us back to a specific moment in which, on the border between earth and space, day and night meet for a few moments, giving us a breathtaking landscape.

Halo Horizon recreates that luminous phenomenon that occurs in nature, where light bent by gravity and scattered in billions of particles in the atmosphere becomes visible in the form of colour and shades opening a space-time window overlooking our planet, and which is directly beamed into your home.
