

Hypersun

Light meets sculpture

The Hypersun is a monolithic sculpture that captures the essence of the contrast between the majesty of brass and the lightness of a thin, minimalist design. A harmonious blend of strength and grace.

The hand-polished surfaces of brass become reflective canvases, capturing light and its reflections. This creates a fluid dialogue between shapes and shadows, transforming Hypersun into a dynamic work of art.

A sophisticated optical system, developed from the artistic-experimental research of the Halo Expedition project, boasts superior light intensity, allowing for the creation of powerful projections.
